

History and Theory of Architecture I: Friends with an old Book

Task 3 – Bibliography

After having familiarised yourselves with your book, we now ask you to start researching it. For this task you will collect bibliographical references, in the form of books and articles that mention or discuss your assigned books. Each student will post a list of two references that directly mention their old book. These can be pages from an academic book, or from an article or paper published in a scholarly journal.

First reference (Article in journal):

Hind, A. M. (1914), 'Giovanni Battista Piranese Some Further Notes and a List of His Works.' The Burlington Magazine for Connoisseurs, no. 130, pp: 187-189 + 192-193 + 196-200 + 203

Second reference (Article in journal):

Pasquali S. (2006), 'Piranesi Architect, Courtier, and Antiquarian: The Late Rezzonico Years (1762 – 1768)', Memoirs of the American Academy in Rome (The Serpent and the Stylus: Essays on G. B. Piranesi), no. 4, pp: 171 - 194
